

Annelise Norlyk
Institute of Science in Nursing
Høegh-Guldbergs Gade 6 A
8000, Aarhus C
Denmark
E-mail: an@sygeplejevid.au.dk
Phone: 20655751
Mobile: 29119738

Employment

Current employment:

2020-: Professor of nursing and Degree programme director, Department of Public Health, Aarhus University. Pedagogical responsibility for Master of Science in Nursing. Advanced Practice Nursing degree programmes and professional Master's degree programme (approx. 300 students on two Campi).

2020-2023: Professor II, 20% employment, University of Agder, Campus Grimstad, Kristiansand, Norway.

Previous employment:

2018 - 2020: Associate professor and degree programme director, Section for Nursing, Department of Public Health, Aarhus University. Pedagogical responsibility for Master of Science in Nursing, Advanced Practice Nursing degree programmes and the professional Master's degree programme (approx. 300 students on two Campi).

2016 - 2018: Associate professor/senior associate professor, Section for Nursing, Department of Public Health, Aarhus University/VIA University College, Hedeager, Skejby.

2014 - 2016: Associate professor, joint position, Section for Nursing, Department of Public Health, Aarhus University/VIA University College, Hedeager, Skejby.

2013 - 2014: Part-time lecturer. Aarhus University, Department of Public Health – Section for Nursing.

2010 - 2013: 3-year assistant professorship, Clinical Medicine/Department of Public Health, Section for Nursing, Aarhus University.

2009 - 2010: Assistant Professor, University College Lillebælt, School of Nursing in Vejle.

2006 - 2009: Clinical nursing specialist. PhD student, Aarhus, Department of Surgery, Aarhus University Hospital.

2005 - 2006: Nursing teacher, School of Nursing in Vejle County.

2004 - 2005: External lecturer, School of Nursing in Silkeborg.

1998 - 2000: Department nurse, Aarhus County Hospital, Abdominal Surgical/Oncology Ward.

1996 - 1998: Department nurse, Skejby Hospital, Gynaecology/Oncology Ward.

1995 - 1996: Department nurse, Aarhus County Hospital, Gynaecology/Oncology Ward.

1992 - 1994: Department nurse, Aarhus Municipal Hospital, Gynaecological/Obstetrical Outpatient Department.

1983 - 1992: Nurse, Various surgical wards and treatment departments.

Other short-term employment:

2002 - 2004: School of Nursing in Aarhus. Supervisor for Bachelor students taking the supplementary course and hourly-paid nursing teacher.

1986 - 1991: Aarhus Municipality Hospital's School of Nursing and the Hospitals' Educational Centre. External lecturer.

1987 - 1988: Tranbjergvænge Nursing Home in Tranbjerg. Substitute nurse.

Academic education

2006 - 2009: PhD in nursing. PhD programme. Faculty of Health Sciences, Department of Public Health, Department of Nursing, Aarhus University.

2001 - 2004: Master of Science in Nursing Master's degree programme in Nursing. Department of Nursing, Faculty of Health Sciences, Aarhus University.

2000 - 2001: Supplementary bachelor course at the Danish School of Nursing at Aarhus University.

Dissertations:

2009: After colonic surgery. A phenomenological study of participating in a fast-track programme. PhD dissertation. Faculty of Health Sciences, Aarhus University. Aarhus University Press.

2004: At balancere på en knivsæg. Kolonopererede patienters oplevelse af et accelereret forløb. [Patients' experiences of undergoing fast-track surgery] Master's thesis.

Department of Nursing, Faculty of Health Science, Aarhus University.

Other education

1990 - 1991: Business economist courses; Business Organisation, Business Economics, Management and Cooperation. Aarhus Business College.

1979 - 1982: Nursing education. School of Nursing, Aarhus County Hospital.

Pedagogical courses

2012: Course in PhD supervision. Faculty of Health Sciences, Aarhus University.

2011: Course in university teaching for assistant professors. Aarhus University. Classroom instruction, lecturing and supervision based on the theory of constructive alignment.

Research areas

1. My primary research areas relate to patients' recovery post discharge as seen from patients' and relatives' perspectives. Here my research addresses homecare for older people and concerns existential aspects related to well-being and recovery post discharge, transition from hospital to homecare nursing, patient involvement, and homecare nursing for older people.

2. The development of empirical phenomenological and hermeneutical approaches and research ethics within the area of humanistic health care research such as methodological implications and research ethics related to qualitative research within healthcare (e.g. in connection with interviewing patients and relatives).

Talent development, supervisor for the following PhD projects:

2022-2024: PhD student Trine Arnam-Olsen. Principal supervisor. Suffering and wellbeing as experienced by adults with refractory epilepsy undergoing rehabilitation in a community setting and their next of kin - a qualitative study.

2021-2025: Emma Jones. Co-supervisor (Nord University, Norway). Virtual Nursing. A mixed methods study on nursing at distance.

2020-2024: PhD student Aline Dragosits. Principal supervisor. Older peoples' (patients' and relatives') perspectives on hospital-home transitions in very early discharge.

2020-2023: PhD student Mavis Bengtsson. Co-supervisor (Bournemouth University, UK). Caring in the Community: An Exploration of Senior Adults Perspectives of Homecare in the UK: A Participatory Research Approach.

2019-2023: PhD student Marie Ernst Christensen. Principal supervisor. Food and eating challenges among adolescents and young adults with cancer undergoing chemotherapy.

2016-2020: PhD student Hanne Bove Mørkenborg. Principal supervisor. Bridging acute nursing care to patients suffering from alcohol use disorders - A Lifeworld Phenomenology.

2016-2020: PhD student Ingrid Villadsen Kristensen (part-time student). Principal supervisor. Patients experiences of living with end-stage kidney disease - before, during and after a kidney transplant.

2015-2020: PhD student Mai-Britt Hägi Pedersen (part-time student). Co-supervisor. PreHomeCare study: Multicenter randomised study of the effect and experience of an early in-home programme (Pre-HomeCare) for preterm infants using video consultation and smartphone applications compared with in-hospital consultations.

2015: PhD student Jette Schilling Larsen, VIA University College. Co-supervisor. The transition from milk to solid food - an action research project with focus on the health visitor. Ended as the student died in October 2017.

2013: PhD student Susan Larsen, Aarhus University Hospital (part-time student). Co-supervisor. Unplanned admission in haematology: A quantitative and qualitative study on extent, cause and impact on patient's life.

2012-2016: PhD student Janne Brammer, Silkeborg Regional Hospital. Co-supervisor. A struggle for recognition and meaning - A phenomenological-hermeneutic study of the illness trajectory of patients undergoing spinal fusion surgery.

PhD and senior association professor assessments

2023: PhD student Anita Øgaard-Repol, Agder University, Norway. Chair of the assessment committee. Peer support in healthcare services for people living with HIV.

2019: PhD student Bente Skovsby Toft. Chair of the assessment committee. Being a large body in activity - experiences of lifestyle change over an 18 month period.

2018: Associate Professor assessments and recommendation of candidates. Assessment of four applicants for senior associate professor position. Position in health technology at University College Lillebælt.

2017: PhD student Birgit Rasmussen. Mid-term evaluation. Meaningful living engaging in physical activities; experiences from old people from two week to 18 months after a hip fracture.

2012: PhD student Vibeke Østergaard Steinfeldt, Roskilde University. Opponent: "work-in-progress". Hospice - a living house. An analysis of the care provided at hospice with specific focus on spiritual care. Roskilde University.

Invited speaker - last five years

2023

•Keynote speaker: DSR Region Midt, Homecare Nurses. The complexities of the coordination work of homecare nurses in Municipalities.

2022

•Keynote speaker: Geriatric nurses in Denmark. The invisible work of nurses.

2021

- Significant challenges in community nursing. The Danish Health Authorities, Copenhagen.
- Homecare nursing and the need for research. The managers of the Danish Nurses Association, Copenhagen.
- Life world led care as theoretical frame for understanding patients' existential challenges. Harested, The Arctic University, Tromsø, Norway.

2019

- Patients' experiences of losing a leg. International ICON Conference. Kolding.

2018

- Moderator: A panel debate on Evidence-based Practice, Nursing Knowledge and Leadership. Dasys National Conference: Magical Knowledge.

Presentations at international scientific conferences, last 10 years:

2018

- Norlyk A, Haahr A., Dreyer P. Martinsen B. "Dialogue with the vulnerable: Phenomenological interviewing." International Human Science Research Conference, South Carolina, USA.

2017

- Norlyk A, Haahr A., Dreyer P. Martinsen B. "A Discussion of the Need for Reviving Ethics of Care in Today's Evidence-based Practice to Avoid McDonaldization of Nursing." The 23rd International Caritas Consortium, October, 2017. San Francisco, CA, USA.

- Haahr A., Norlyk A., Martinsen B., Dreyer P. "Ethical and moral dilemmas experienced by nurses in today's health care system." International Human Science Research Conference, July 2017, Poland.

- Norlyk A. "Towards McDonaldization of nursing practice? - A discussion of the need for reviving nursing theory in today's evidence practice." Wellbeing in changing times conference, April 2017, Bodø, Norway.

2016

- Norlyk A. & Dreyer P. "The meaning of walking among people with walking impairment." International Human Science Research Conference. Ottawa, Canada.

2015

- Norlyk A. "Individual interviewing - but with an unintended presence of the patient's partner." Nordic Conference of Caring Science. Copenhagen, Denmark

2014

- Norlyk A. "Living with clipped wings - patients' experiences of losing a leg". European Academy of Caring Science. Hull, England.

2013

- Dreyer P., Haahr A., Norlyk A. & Martinsen B. "Creativity in methodologies derived from phenomenological philosophy in empirical nursing studies – respectful renewal of researchtraditions or creativity gone wild?" 32nd International Human Science Research Conference. Aalborg, Denmark.

- Norlyk A. "Co-responsibility as experienced by relatives to patients in a fast-track programme". European Academy of Caring Science. Aarhus, Denmark.

2012

- Martinsen B., Dreyer P., Haahr A. & Norlyk A. "Are men from Mars and women from Venus? Views from a phenomenological perspective". 31st International Human Science Research Conference. Montreal, Canada.

- Norlyk A. "What Makes a Phenomenological Study Phenomenological: An Analysis of Peer reviewed Empirical Nursing Studies". Nordic Phenomenological Network. Aarhus, Denmark.

External grants:

- APN-EDU-Nordplus (2023): 303,150.
- APN-EDU-Nordplus (2022): DKK 487,000.
- Marie Curie (2019): InnovateDignity, DKK 34 million, of which DKK 4.6 million will finance my two PhD projects as principal supervisor.
- The Danish Nurses' Organisation DKK 501,000.
- Aarhus Hospital. DKK 400,000.
- Novo Nordisk Foundation: DKK 380,000.

- Aarhus University Hospital: DKK 150,000.
- Sister Marie Dahlgårds Foundation: DKK 33,000.

External Grants as principal supervisor, PhD projects

Trine Arnam-Olsen:

- Helsefondens Forskningsfond, Jr. nr. 23, B 0241. DKK 200,000.
- Filadelfia, Forskningsfond. DKK 1,519,965.

Marie Ernst Christensen:

- DKK 1.6 million, Beat Cancer

Hanne Bové Mørkenborg:

- DKK 2.1 million, The Fisker Foundation, Aarhus University Hospital

Ingrid Villadsen Kristensen:

- DKK 1.260.230, VIA University, Health Grants, DK
- DKK 40,000, The Danish Kidney Association

Mai-Britt Hägi Pedersen:

- DKK 451.000, Trygfonden, DK
- DKK 300.000, Helsefonden, DK

Grant as co-supervisor for current PhD students

Co-applicant for the funding of two other PhD students Janne Brammer, who graduated 2016, and Jette Schilling Larsen, who passed away 2017. They were partly externally funded and partly funded by Aarhus University.

External grants in total: DKK 42,464,150

Memberships - academic/scientific

- APN-EDU-Nordic/Baltic network (member since 2020)
- European Academy of Caring Science, EACS (member since 2013)
- Chair of 'Nordic network for interdisciplinary phenomenological researcher within healthcare', (chair since 2012, member since 2010).
- Livsverden.dk, [Interdisciplinary scientific forum for existential phenomenology] (member 2008-)
- Dasys Research Council: member 2016- 2018

Other activities - academic/scientific

2013-: Scientific editor of the journal Klinisk Sygepleje. [Clinical Nursing] Munksgaard. Copenhagen.

2012: Organiser of a symposium by Professor Max van Manen, Canada. Section for Nursing, Aarhus University/Research Unit for Clinical Nursing, Aalborg Hospital.

Organiser of the interdisciplinary network meeting "Livsverden.dk". Section for Nursing. Aarhus University.

Initiator of the kick-off seminar "Patientperspektivet" [Patients' perspectives]. Open access. Section for Nursing. Aarhus University

2010-2013: Organiser of four annual scientific conferences. Clinical Nursing. Copenhagen.

2008-: Member and web editor within the healthcare area for www.livsverden.dk. An interdisciplinary Danish scientific forum for existential phenomenology.

Reviewer for the following journals:

- Disability and Rehabilitation*
- International Journal of Nursing Studies*
- International Journal of Qualitative Studies on Health and Well-being*
- Academic Quarter*
- Nursing Inquiry*
- International Journal of Public Health*
- Journal of Clinical Nursing*

Press coverage

2022:

Viden på tværs: Kommuner: Samarbejdet om borgere med komplekse problemstillinger skal styrkes. [Municipalities: Corporation should be strengthened concerning care of citizens with complex issues.] <https://vpt.dk/hjemmepleje/kommuniver-samarbejdet-om-borgere-med-komplekse-problemstillinger-skal-styrkes>. Herning Folkeblad: Pest og Kolera: Færre sosu'er og lavere faglighed. <https://apps-infomedia-dk.ez.statsbiblioteket.dk/mediarkiv/link?articles=e9508f79>.

2019:

"Forsker giver de ældre en stemme", [Researcher focuses on older peoples' perspectives] Portrait article by Krøger A. Aarhus Stiftstidende (newspaper), 26-01
Vejle Amts Folkeblad (newspaper), 03-02
Fredericia Dagblad (newspaper), 03-02
Horsens Folkeblad (newspaper), 03.02

2018:

"EU-millioner skal øge ældre menneskers oplevelse af værdighed", [EU funding focuses on dignity for older people] Au.dk (Aarhus University), 24-10

"Marie Curie-millioner til AU-forskning i ældres værdighed", [Marie Curie millions to research at Aarhus University concerning dignity for older people] Århus Stiftstidende og Medicinsk Tidsskrift.dk, 26-10

"Forskning i ældres værdighed" [Research in dignity for older people] Kristeligt Dagblad, 03-11

"Millioner til forskning i ældres værdighed", [Millions to research concerning dignity for older people] Nordjyske Stiftstidende Section 2, 11-11

"Ny forskning i ældres værdighed", [Research concerning dignity for older people] Magasinet Pleje, 23-11

2009:

"Forsker i et spændingsfelt". [Researcher in an area of hot spot]. Dambo, H. EVU Magasin, University College Lillebælt, pp. 10-12.

Other activities

2010: Member of the editorial team for the journal Klinisk Sygepleje. [Clinical Nursing] Munksgaard. Copenhagen.

2008: Member of the steering committee for the development of the PhD course "Qualitative analysis in humanistic health research". The course is still being offered by the Faculty of Health, Aarhus University.

2000 – 2001: One of the four members of the expert group for nursing which assisted in formulating indicators for the quality of nursing with regard to breast cancer treatment in Denmark. The project was completed in 2001. The Danish Evaluation Centre for hospitals. Copenhagen.

Development projects:

2010 - 2013: Supervisor on the project: "Rehabiliterende sygepleje til patienter i behandling for endetarmskræft". [Recovery for patients undergoing chemotherapy in an out-patient clinic] The project was a collaboration between University College Lillebælt and Vejle Hospital.

2009 - 2010: Head of the research and development project "Rehabilitering på borgernes præmisser". [Rehabilitation on the premises of patients]. The project was carried out in collaboration between: University College Lillebælt, Fredericia Municipality, Vejle Neuro Centre, The Physiotherapy and Pain Clinic, Odense, the Danish Health Institute, Vejle Business Development, Trekantens Innovation forum, Fredericia Folk High School and selected companies.

Private: Married to Preben Vinter. We have three children aged 35, 31 and 26 years.